Program Information

Accreditation

The RN-BSN completion program at the University of Providence is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, 655 K Street, NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20001, (202) 887-6791.

Academic Information

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree completion program is offered to licensed, practicing Registered Nurses (RN) employed by Providence St. Joseph Health (PSJH) and its partner organizations. This program is now available to all RNs (outside of PSJH) who meet the requirements.

The program is a unique five semester program:

- Includes a 2-day face-to-face orientation prior to the start of the first semester of the program.
- Additional semesters are taught via distance learning using Collaborate and Moodle.
- This program uses a cohort model, allowing the students to move through each class with the same group of students each semester.

Eligible caregivers of PSJH receive scholarship support through Providence. Please talk to the UP staff about this scholarship.

Admission Requirements

The University of Providence RN to BSN Degree Completion Program is a highly competitive program offered to licensed, practicing Registered Nurses within PSJH and to the public.

The follow items must be met to be eligible for the program:

- Graduate of an Associate Degree program in Nursing (or diploma program)
- Active and unencumbered RN license
- All prerequisite and core courses complete or in progress at time of application. All outstanding courses must be completed by the start of the program.
- Applicants must submit all required documents as per application instructions:
  - Application documents are submitted on-line via NursingCAS (www.nursingcas.org). These documents include a typed written essay and official college transcripts.

The following items must be met for applicants to be eligible for PSJH and partner organizations scholarship funds:

- Employed at a Providence St. Joseph Health or partner organization as a 0.6 FTE (24 hours) or greater for 6 months as a Registered Nurse (RN). LPN and CNA experience is not eligible for this program.
- Providence St. Joseph Health RNs must be employed in a benefited position (0.6 FTE or greater) at the time they submit their UP application and stay in a benefited position throughout the program.
- Per diem employees are not eligible for the scholarship, however, they can apply to the program and pay the discounted rate of $483/credit.
- Special Note: Please check with your manager, CNO or UP staff, not all Providence St. Joseph Health and partner organizations offer a scholarship.
- Graduate of an Associate Degree program in Nursing (or diploma program).
- Active and unencumbered RN license.
- RN is in good standing at their facility (RN is currently not on a performance plan or has been on a plan for the last 12 months).
- RN is not on an active medical leave.

This is a competitive program, not all candidates that meet eligibility requirements will be accepted. The University will review and rank each applicant based on a number of criteria. Although there are many criteria to judge an application, three important criteria include:

1. A Personal Essay answering the questions:
  - A. Please share with us (in two paragraphs) why you are choosing to return to school.
  - B. Please share with us (in two paragraphs) why you are choosing to apply to the UP RN-BSN program.
2. Completion of program pre-requisite coursework with a C grade or better at time of application:

UP RN-BSN Completion Program

- Program pre-requisites: Anatomy & Physiology (4 credits), Microbiology (4 credits), and Nutrition (3 credits)
- 3. Applicants must have completed all core courses, or be enrolled in their final outstanding core courses, at time of application.

*Note: in order to determine course transferability, please contact Mallory Morse at nursing@uprovidence.edu.

Application Steps

Please Note: Qualified applicants are accepted into the program as their completed applications are received in NursingCAS. There are a limited number of seats for each cohort. Once all seats are filled for the upcoming start date, we will begin to admit students into the next available cohort.

1. Visit the NursingCAS website at www.nursingcas.org.
2. Review the links under Application Instructions.
