

ACCEPTABLE USE

This Acceptable Use Agreement applies to University of Providence (UP) employees, volunteers, trainees, and all others doing business with UP.

Compliance with this agreement is a condition of continued employment or association with the University of Providence according to the Acceptable Use of Technology Resources policy found in the employee policy manual.

The Acceptable Use of Technology Resources policy describes the appropriate use of UP information and technology resources including data, systems, networks and devices including but not limited to desktop computers, laptops, PDAs, fax machines, phones, cell phones, and copiers and is intended to promote and protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of UP information and technology.

I am aware and agree, unless further described herein:

- Internet usage, communications and transactions are not private. All computer activity is recorded and can be traced to a specific user ID.
- Information and technology associated with or belonging to UP must be protected by taking appropriate measures such as keeping passwords private, encrypting all computers and devices, and locking all portable devices.
- Information and technology is for business use and must not be used for purposes which may interfere or are in conflict with the UP mission and/or policies. Any use of UP information or technology for a purpose not specifically authorized by UP is prohibited.
- UP reserves the right to limit or restrict the use of information or technology to meet the business and service obligations of the organization.

Although information and technology resources are for business use, limited personal use may be permitted with the following restrictions:

- Usage must be reasonable, lawful and ethical and cannot be offensive or disrespectful to co-workers or others in the work environment.
- Usage must not interfere or be in conflict with UP responsibilities or productivity.

IMPORTANT: In addition to termination, non-compliance could result in further action, including civil or criminal prosecution. Violation of these requirements by a third party contracted with UP may result in termination of the representative's contractual arrangement with UP for default and may further result in such representative being subject to civil or criminal laws, as applicable.

By signing this document, I acknowledge that I have read, understand, and agree to abide by the University of Providence Acceptable Use Agreement. This agreement does not limit my right to use my own general knowledge and experience, whether or not gained while employed by UP, or my right to use information which is known to the general public through no fault of my own.
