Enroll by your deadline
through the HR Service Portal
at HRforCaregivers.org

Welcome to Providence benefits

Providence offers a comprehensive benefits package designed to support your health and well-being. This overview reviews your options and how to enroll.

Explore the HR Service Portal at HRforCaregivers.org to learn about all your options, use tools to help you choose the benefits that are right for you and enroll in or decline coverage through the benefits enrollment system.

Your enrollment timeline

You are eligible for coverage effective on your hire date or the date you become benefits-eligible. You have up to 30 days from your hire date or the date you become eligible for benefits to enroll. Once your enrollment is processed, your coverage and any paycheck deductions will be retroactive to your date of hire or the date you became benefits-eligible.

Your elections will remain in effect through the end of the year, and you will not be able to change your coverage unless you have a family status change or other qualifying event.

If you don't enroll, you won't have health coverage

If you don't enroll, you will have basic life and disability insurance coverage for yourself only (no dependents will be covered). You will not have medical, dental or vision coverage.

Enrolling dependents? Keep in mind...

- If you add a dependent through the benefits enrollment system, be sure to select the coverage you want to enroll your dependent in. Simply adding your dependent's information in the benefits enrollment system does not enroll them in coverage.
- When you enroll a dependent, you will be asked to provide specific documentation showing that your dependent is eligible. If you do not provide the documentation by the deadline, or you provide incomplete documentation, coverage for your dependent will be canceled.
- If you enroll your spouse/adult benefits recipient (ABR) in Providence medical coverage, you will need to confirm when you enroll whether the working spouse surcharge applies to you.

Eligible dependents include your legal spouse or ABR and your children up to age 26. See the HR Service Portal at [HRforCaregivers.org](https://hrfor caregivers.org) for more information. Type who can I cover in the search bar, then click Who Can I Cover for Benefits?

If you enroll an ABR, that coverage may be subject to imputed income. This means you may be taxed on the value of ABR coverage.

2021 cost of coverage

Per-pay-period medical, dental and vision premiums

You and Providence share in the cost of medical coverage, with Providence paying the majority of the cost. Voluntary dental and vision coverage is also available. Your benefits deductions are pre-tax. The amount you pay is based on how many people you cover, the plan you choose and whether you are part-time or full-time.

2021 per-pay-period premiums — Medical

Please note: The premiums shown below do not reflect the HSA or HRA health incentive.

Working spouse surcharge

If your spouse/ABR's employer offers medical coverage and your spouse/ABR chooses to waive that coverage and instead enrolls in your Providence medical plan, you will pay a $69.23 per-pay-period surcharge, deducted from your pay on a pre-tax basis. You will be asked to declare whether the surcharge applies to you when you enroll.

Learn more on the HR Service Portal at HRforCaregivers.org. Type working spouse surcharge in the search bar, then click Working Spouse Surcharge.
